

The Department of Economics of Università Bocconi, Milan (Italy) (www.unibocconi.eu) invites applications for tenure-track positions at the junior faculty level in ANY FIELD of Economics. The appointment will start in September 2011.

Candidates will be interviewed at the 2011 ASSA meeting in Denver and may be subsequently invited to give a job talk at Bocconi.

Contracts will run for up to seven years (with no teaching obligations the first year and subject to renewal after the first four years). There is also the possibility of promotion to a tenured position at the end of that period. Knowledge of Italian is not required but applicants must be fluent in English. Responsibilities include teaching and, most importantly, productivity in research.

Applicants should have - or be close to completing - a Ph.D. and will have demonstrated strong potential in research and teaching.

Compensation and teaching load will be competitive with other top European academic institutions.

Application must be submitted online at:

www.unibocconi.eu/jobmarket

Applications should be received preferably by December 1, 2010.
