With the participation of Vice-President of the European Commission

Jyrki KATAINEN

Responsible for Jobs, Growth, Investment and Competitiveness

to discuss about what Europe has learnt from the economic crisis, about modernising the EU and our economy so as to secure long-term prosperity, peace and cohesion in Europe. The Vice-President would like to hear young people's views, in particular, about how the EU should face the challenges of:

- preserving our fundamental values,
- standing-up for open, fair and rules-based trade, and
- embracing technological change while making our economy circular
