Summary: During the winter of a.a. 2014-15 the Department posted a call for 1 assistant professor in public economics, with an application deadline on 1 December 2014. We received 90 valid applications. Each application was initially evaluated by at least three members of the hiring committee to determine a short list of candidates to interview at the AEA-ASSA meetings in Boston. On 3-5 January three members of the hiring committee (Colli, Devillanova, Galasso) interviewed 27 (of which 6 jointly with the Bocconi department of Economics) candidates shortlisted. After the interviews, the hiring committee selected the following 7 candidates to be invited for campus flyouts during the months of February and March 2015:

Massimo Anelli: is an applied economist with research interests in education and public economics. He will receive his PhD in economics in June 2015 from UC Davis. He has a very good technical training and fits perfectly at PAM, as he could work with several people. The committee ranked him very highly in the list of candidates. After extended negotiation this candidate accepted Bocconi's offer.
