The following candidates were shortlisted for a flyout (most of them, but not all were interviewed at the AFA) and the judgments expressed by the Committee and the Department on each candidate after the fly out seminar are as follows:

OMISSIS

Florian NAGLER is a PhD candidate from the Vienna Graduate School of Finance, another very good European School. His interests are empirical corporate finance, with a particular emphasis on bond markets. He gave a very good seminar that confirmed his research quality and teaching skills. As a result, the committee decided to make him an offer.

On the basis of the above conclusions, the Hiring Committee asked the Dean of the Faculty to make four offers (OMISSIS...and Nagler). One offer was accepted by Florian Nagler, filling one of the two positions offered in the call.

In conclusion, we received 199 applications, invited 9 for flyouts, made 4 job offers, and secured 1 hire. We therefore request to close this call with one of the two positions filled.
